FIELD MARSHAL YAMAGATA TELLS

Tokio, Sept. 9, 6 a. m.—The Nichi Nichi publishes an extended statement from Field Marshal Yamagata, reviewing the war. There is keen interest and anticipation on the part of the shopper. And Keith-O'Brien's is just now the center of interest.

THE PROFIT OF THE MIDDLE MAN.

Every Purchase Carries a Portion of It.

$12.75 to $85.00.

THE PROFIT OF THE MIDDLE MAN!

Whenever it becomes possible to eliminate the middleman and the shopper is supplied direct from the manufacturer prices undergo a decided reduction.

This season arrangements have been perfected whereby Keith-O'Brien Company will buy from the manufacturers which supply the large New York houses—the very houses from which this store has been buying.

Our new prices will be practically the same prices therefore, which have heretofore been paid the wholesaler.

Just what we save is just what you will save on each purchase. The reduction, sweeping as it is, covers millinery in its entiretyheadwear, trimmings, feathers, foliage, flowers, etc. For instance, last season our price for a certain bunch of foliage was 75 cents; this season we are enabled to sell the same kind at 35 cents.

To lower the prices of fine millinery -and maintain the high character of headwear -- is an innovation which becomes almost a millinery sensation--if the word be permissible in making clear the effects of an emphatic move of this sort.

Shirt Waist Suits.

Among the new styles are the Sicilian and Panama Shirt Waist Suits. Exclusive modes are shown. These are especially attractive in view of the fact that the ever popular shirt waist suit will again be worn this fall.
